Some merchants make efforts when they do not need to, and make no effort when effort is absolutely necessary.

DO YOU WEAR PANTS?
Do they fit you?
Are you well supplied with them?

These are pertinent questions, but at this season of the year are to the point.

In looking over your wardrobe can't you see that there is quite a bit of wear in that coat and vest yet, if you only had a pair of trousers to go with them. (This is where economy which means wealth comes in.)

Before the arrival of our Fall Stock we are making a clean and clear sweep of all our Summer Trouserings

FROM $5 PER PAIR UP—SEE THEM.

It will pay you to walk 40 miles to get a pair of our $9 trousers for $7, or our $12 trousers for $9. And then again there are those $35 Scotch Cheviot Tweed Suits for $30, and only a few of our $25 ones for $20; and just wait until you see those elegant Venetian Overcoatings we are whacking out at $25.

in these goods; they are all this season's purchases, and will be made up with the same care in finish and workmanship I put on all my ordered work.

THE PREMIER'S ILLNESS.

Incapacitated for Work at a Critical Time When His Services Are Needed.

Prospects of the Canal Retaliation Threat Being Executed at Washington.

Great Storms in Prince Edward Island—An Aged Lady's Heroism.

OTTAWA, Aug. 20.—Much anxiety prevails in ministerial circles over the health of Premier. As already stated in the Times he is far from well and very much worse than has been announced to the public. He has been ordered again to take complete rest and goes on a holiday for a month, starting in yacht for the gulf of St. Lawrence. Whenever he goes to business he is attacked with a dizziness in the head and weakness in the limbs which is called partial paralysis. If anything were to happen him at the present time with retaliation on hand and the Manitoba school question in the front, the Conservatives would have much trouble about a successor. Sir John Thompson is certainly the first choice, but the extreme Protestant and Orange wing will be apt, owing to the present political situation, to clamor for Sir Charles Tupper.

The opinion is prevalent in ministerial circles that President Harrison will put the retaliatory law in force, and if so there will be a fall meeting of the Dominion Parliament.

Sir Adolphe Caron, who has returned from Chicoutimi, claims that the result of the election was a great personal victory for himself, having gone into it single-handed. Chapleau and Ouimet did not help him, neither did he want their help. Savard, the defeated candidate, says that at one poll there were no ballot boxes, no ballots and no lists; all the votes were against him, and numbered 60. Belley's majority is only 36.

Hon. Mackenzie Bowell with General Herbert, leaves for the Pacific coast on Monday. Hon. J. Haggart will go later, in two or three weeks. Hon. Dewdney and Deputy Burgess will also go out to Victoria this season.

P. E. I. Greatly Disturbed.

HALIFAX, N.S., Aug. 20.—For some weeks the farmers of Prince Edward Island prayed for rain. Their prayers were answered and six inches of rain fell in four and a half days. Now they are praying for fine weather. The floods have ruined thousands of tons of hay. Instead of making hay while the sun shone, the farmers waited for another inch of growth with the result of heavy loss. A miniture cyclone swept over a section of P.E.I. on Wednesday night.

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 20.—A minature cyclone swept over a section of Prince Edward Island on Wednesday night. At O'Leary Station three houses were blown down and several badly twisted. Five dwellings and two barns were destroyed on the North road and a man named McCarcher was killed. A strip of woods a quarter of a mile wide was rooted up. The crops are badly damaged. The lightning was terrific. Many barns were struck and burned. The store of Mr. Colin Wright and the dwelling of Mr. Jas. Staver, at Bedeque, were wrecked.

Noted Criminal Captured.

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—Big Ed. Rice, a noted criminal, was arrested at the Grand Pacific hotel yesterday as he was preparing to rob one of the big banks. In 1873 he was implicated in a bank robbery at Halifax, N.S., with Horace Hovan and another man. Rice alone escaped arrest, but later sent back the $20,000 stolen, and his partners were discharged. In 1887 he was implicated in a $5000 robbery of the Canadian Express Co. in Toronto. He was arrested, but his two companions escaped. On trial he was convicted, and given four years in the Kingston prison.

an Aged Heroine.

KINGSTON, Aug. 20.—Allan's sawmill was burned on Thursday night. This is the third time. The mill was only erected six months ago; no insurance. Mrs. John Wilson, over 60 years of age, rushed into Calabogie lake to save two children which were drowning. Though the water was beyond her depth, she seized one child and saved it, while another friend rescued the other girl.

Crespo's Latest Victory.

PANAMA, via Galveston, Aug. 19.—Advices from Caracas state that Gen. Crespo has captured Valencia. His storming force consisted of 1500 men and about the same number held in reserve. There was but little resistance. Only 239 soldiers occupied the city at the time of the attack, and they retired after a short and feeble effort.

A BITTER COMPLAINT.

The New Denverites Grievance Against the Government - Sports To-day

VANCOUVER, Aug. 20.—Mr. Mahon, mining capitalist, largely interested in Slocan, arrived down yesterday. His reports equal anything yet published about the richness of the district, but he complains bitterly of the Government's treatment of New Denver. They got thirty thousand dollars out of the townsite and have done absolutely nothing in return. There is great need of trails and better postal facilities. There is plenty of ore for shipment but communication is almost impossible.

A big cycling tournament, cricket match, Vancouver vs. Westminster, and general programme of games are in progress at Brockton point today.

Yesterday's mail east of Winnipeg, delayed by a washout near Rat Portage. Will arrive to-day.

The Princess Louise arrived here last night from the north. Ninety-nine Chinese on board refused vaccination, and were brought up one at a time and held by three deck hands while the operation was performed. The Louise left for Victoria at seven this morning.

A passenger jumped on the Yosemite after she had started this afternoon, but was thrown back on the dock by order of the captain, because he had not a vaccination certificate.

THE COAL CITY.

A Boy Drowned—Great Potlatch—The Kidnapping Case.

NANAIMO, Aug. 20.—A sad story of the drowning of a bright little son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Bates reached this city yesterday. The family live at Yellow Point, about seven miles south of the rapids. The little fellow was missed on Thursday night about six o'clock, from the front of the house where he was previously seen to be playing, and although search was immediately made he could not be found, and the anxious mother became alarmed for fear he had fallen a prey to some wild animal, so she aroused her nearest neighbor who joined in the search. It was not long before the bright eyed little fellow was found drowned on the beach. It is surmised that the child had been playing near the water and had fallen in; the spot where he was found was only two feet deep when the tide was full. The father had left for Victoria on Thursday to undergo an operation on his eyes, which he injured a few days previous while splitting wood. The funeral took place this afternoon from Hilbert's undertaking establishment. Mr. Planta, coroner made an investigation and decided an inquest was unnecessary.

After the regular meeting of Prosperity Grove, U.A.O.D., last evening the members repaired to the Occidental Hotel where a banquet was given in honor of the visit of Noble Grand Arch Sorrenson and Grand Secretary Knarston, of California Grand Grove, who have arrived for the purpose of instituting a new Grove at Northfield to-morrow night.

It was learned by the arrival of the Joan from Comox yesterday that the greatest potlatch ever known to have taken place at Cape Mudge came off on the 9th of this month. Chief Bell Quathiaska is the name of the individual who has surpassed himself. He is of the Salmon River tribe. He gave 5300 blankets, 350 boxes of biscuits, 230 silver bracelets, 150 trunks and $300 in cash, the total value of which our informant estimates at $8000. This munificent gift is said to have left the chief penniless.

The appeal against the conviction of Anderson and Tate in the kidnapping case came up before Judge Harrison yesterday afternoon. Mr. Hunter appeared for the crown and Mr. Simpson for the applicants. Mr. Hunter raised an objection to the appeal on the grounds that the notice was given to the County Court judge's Criminal Court of Nanaimo, whereas it should have been to the County Court of Nanaimo. The judge coincided with him and dismissed the case.

Yesterday the janitor of the new court house by mistake masted the flag upside down. A wag happened along at the time and after rubbing his eyes and looking up to the emblem said: "I always though the country was in distress and now the Government declares it." The janitor's attention was soon drawn to the mistake and the flag righted.

A brutal, fistic encounter was witnessed by a large concourse of observers on Victoria Crescent yesterday, between two coat trimmers, who were slightly under the influence of liquor and this fact only seemed to increase their desire to injure each other. Micky Dillon appear to be bottle holder and after each round would remark to the combatants, "an Irishman was never known to yield; go on me boys." Bradley appeared to have the advantage over the other man, as he was the more sober of the two and he punished his man severely and only wanted, as he said, "to get in a home ruler to finish his man." The police did not arrive until the affair was all over, and as the one who had been worsted refused to go home he was taken to jail.

New Westminster.

The fish hatchery will be placed in order next week for the reception of the ova to be stripped from the fish caught in the Harrison river trap in September. Instructions have not yet been received from Ottawa regarding the number of ova to be secured this year.

The farmers on the lower Fraser are up to the eyes in business. The yield is expected to be considerably larger than last year.

RIFLES IN REQUISITION.

Riotous Buffalo Strikers Receive a Volley From a Squad of Militiamen.

Endeavors Made by Railway Men and Authorities to Settle the Troubles.

Tennessee Miners and the Troops Have Serious Conflicts—A Bad Situation.

BUFFALO, Aug. 20.—Powder burned and bullets fell thick and fast at Camp 7, at East Buffalo last night. The first order to fire was given near midnight when the 71st regiment's guard was called out to repel some men who were stoning a train of non union men. The soldiers came and the stoning continued. The gang was on the Erie trestle and then the order to fire was given. A volley was turned loose on them and they scattered. Another volley was fired and the men broke and run under cover of the darkness. They were pursued but escaped. Four companies of militia are stationed at Black Rock this morning. The Erie and Central intend making a determined effort to move freight to-day.

The subject was debated pro and con for nearly an hour, but no action was taken. The upshot of the meeting was that the committee agreed to meet the sheriff in the city hall at 9 o'clock to-morrow and proceed in carriages to the scene of strife. The situation will be carefully surveyed and action taken accordingly. Member Brayton expressed satirically after the meeting the opinion that the United States navy should be at once ordered to proceed overland to the field of carnage.

Fighting in Tennessee.

COAL CREEK, Tenn., Aug. 20.—Although there have been no further outbreaks on the part of the miners, things this morning are ominously quiet, and it is not unlikely there will be more trouble before the day is over. Reports come in that the surrounding hills are bristling with armed miners. Camp Anderson and the stockade, as well as the town, are in complete possession of General Carnes and the troops, and the commander expresses himself as confident of his ability to fully protect them with his present force. There was an engagement in the northeastern part of the town last night, between Col. Servier, in command of the Chickasawa Guards, and about three hundred Yellow Creek miners, whom they encountered on the hills. The miners were routed and several wounded. Two of the Chickasawa Guards were also wounded. Two men were shot by the miners at the camp yesterday, and another wounded.

Died of Cholera.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—Wilhelm Ferdinand, a firemen on the steamer Ellen Dunbar, from Hamburg for Orangemouth, died of cholera on the way. The disease was of the Asiatic type, it is believed, and it is supposed to have been contracted from emigrants at the Hamburg docks. The steamship has been disinfected and all hands are kept on board. Quarantine regulations have been established.

FROM FISH CREEK.

J. M. Kellie, M P. P., Gives Encouraging Reports of His District.

J. M. Kellie, M.P.P. arrived down from Illecillewaet last night and is at the Oriental. He has just returned from a prospecting trip through Fish Creek, travelling from Illecillewaet down the Lardeau country and across to the head waters of the Duncan River and Bear Creek, and back to Illecillewaet. Throughout the country the rock is metallifferous and Mr. Kellie is satisfied that this part of Kootenay is destined to be one of the greatest mining centres in the world. The ores are principally galena, grey copper and carbonates, though some good specimens of peacock copper have also been picked up in the vicinity of Bear Creek.

The prospects of the Illecillewaet camp were never as bright, and several properties have been disposed of to parties who have plenty of capital and intend developing the mines. A. McKinnon has disposed of his Maple Leaf claim to McIntosh, M.P., of Ottawa, for a huge figure. Then the sale to a Scotch company of the Jumbo, formerly owned by Corbin & Kennedy, is being arranged. The old Lanark, owned by Victoria capitalists, shows up well, but unfortunately nothing is being done to further develop it.

The comparatively recent discoveries in Fish Creek give most encouraging prospects. There are now 22 claims recorded, and the development work that is being done shows that the ore beneath the surface is even better than that on top, running as high as 700 ounces in silver to the ton. A good feature about these ledges is that they are true fissure veins, and it is confidently expected that they will turn out the best mining properties in the whole of Kootenay.

The Dinavegan on Fish Creek has been bonded by Messrs. Alexander and Fowler, of the Golden smelter, who paid $1000 down on the bond, and will begin active operations on September 1st.

The Lardeau country is also showing up splendidly this year, and Mr. Kellie says it looks as if the discoveries in the Slocan and Kaslo will be more than equalled in the northern part of West Kootenay already referred to, where there is three times the development been done this year than there was last. In the neighborhood of Trout Lake J. W. Haskins and Abrahamson Bros. have located some fine looking claims, while Pete Walker, Tom Downs, Jack Stauber, J. Ross and G. McDonald have struck a mammoth lead in the same locality, which assays high considering the quantity of ore. Farther back towards the north fork of the Lardeau Messrs. Crockett, Poole and others have struck an immense vein; and 18 miles from Trout Lake on the north fork of the Lardeau have made six locations of very good galena ore.

The trail being built from Illecillewaet to the Lardeau by way of Fish creek will be a great convenience, but there is urgent need for a trail from Trout Lake to the North Fork of the Lordeau. This would not only help the many prospectors who now find difficulty in packing their supplies in, but would also open an avenue to the head waters of the Duncan river, where Mr. Kellie is satisfied from his knowledge of the country and from discoverses made by others a rich gold belt lies. Mr. Kellie has hopes of impressing upon the Government before leaving the city the necessity for building this trail at once.

The new wagon road from the old town to the C.P.R. depot has been completed and a great convenience. The town had to wait a long time for this improvement, but a good job has been made of it at last.

There is a movement afoot to induce the C.P.R. to build a branch line to the head of the Upper Arrow lake. This line would run through the most magnificently timbered country in the mountains; and no doubt would be the means of the establishment of large mills at Arrow lake. From Beaver right around the Big Bend the banks of the Columbia are well timbered, but the rapid stream will not permit of booming, and only limits in the immediate vicinity of Revelstoke have been utilized. With railway transportation from Arrow lake direct to the prairies a new impetus would be given to the lumbering business, and timber which otherwise could not be handled would be put to use.

The appointment of Mr. McArthur as mining recorder for the new district of the Illecillewait meets with the approval of the miners. The prospectors and miners of Kaslo are now moving to have the government establish a record office there.

STEPHEN FLYNN DIES.

An Inquest to Enquire Into the Cause of Death Instituted.

Stephen Flynn, who complained that he was seriously beaten in the Louvre saloon about July 27th, and at whose instigation Charles Tepoorten was arrested on a charge of assaulting him, died at the Jubilee Hospital yesterday. It will be remembered that on Wednesday Magistrate Macrae went out to take Flynn's deposition regarding the assault, it being considered by the doctor that he would not live long. Flynn could not identify Tepoorten as the man was assaulted him, but stated the particulars of the assault, which have already been published.

The injured man appeared to improve on Wednesday and Thursday, but sank rapidly yesterday and died shortly after 12 o'clock.

This afternoon Coroner Hasell held an inquest on the body at the Jubilee Hospital to enquire into the cause of death, and it was in progress at the time of going to press.

FOR DARCY ISLAND.

Provision Made for the Lepers—Lee Sing Not to be Found.

This morning at 9 o'clock the steamer Alert, with a scow, left for Darcy island carrying clothing and provisionsf for the lepers at that station, and also a quantity of building material to make a necessary addition and improvements to the building there. Medical Health Officer Milne and Sanitary Officer Bailey, and carpenters to do the building, went along to look after the comforts of the unfortunate lepers.

Lee Sing, the leper recently discovered in Chinatown, did not go over this morning. As he expressed himself anxious to go to Darcey island, it was not deemed necessary to keep him under guard, but the authorities forgot that for ways that are dark and tricks that are vain the heathen Chinee is peculiar. When the officer called for him he was not at home, and although a diligent search was instituted, in which many of the Chinese joined, Lee Sing was not found. The search is being continued, and when he is located he will be at once removed to the island.

ROBBED AT SEA.

A Lady Loses a Satchel and Valuables on the Walla Walla.

Mrs. Woolrich, of San Francisco, who arrived in the city this morning on the Walla Walla, acting as chaperon for a party of six young people, reported to Chief Sheppard that yesterday while at dinner on board the Walla Walla, some sneak thief stole from her a small black leather satchel, which contained $145 in gold, a lady's gold watch and seven tickets for passage from San Francisco to Alaska and return. The loss was immediately reported to the captain of the steamer, who instituted a strict search, but nothing of the missing articles could be found. One of the waiters said he thought he saw a man take the satchel away from beside Mrs. Woolrich; but he had a tray full of dishes at the time and did not think much of the action. He did not remember what the party looked like.

Chief Sheppard made a note of the missing articles and a lookout will be kept for them.

The delegates were disgusted with the treatment they received, and it is expected that the result of their report to the corps will be that Commandant Booth will find himself commandant without an army so far as Toronto is concerned.

DO OUR CITY GOVERNMENTS PROTECT THE BABY?

It should be the duty of city governments to provide proper sanitary inspection of all milk that is daily supplied to the people. It is only by such a system that thousands of infants can be protected from danger.

Happily, science has provided an article of diet for young infants, which takes the place of nature's food, when this is lacking in quantity or quality.

Lactated Food, so universally known, is now used by all careful mothers who know the great dangers and risks involved in using cow's milk.

Lactated Food, which is a perfect substitute for breast milk, is at all times pure and reliable. It protects the infant from summer complaints; it improves digestive vigor, and causes baby to grow plump and fat. The mother's happiness, in a large measure, depends upon this king of food; therefore, every home should be supplied with it.

The Gladstone Government.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—A farmer named Atkinson will oppose Sir Wm. Vernon Harcourt when he offers himself again for re-election in Derby. Notwithstanding that Atkinson's fellow Conservatives have urged him to give up the idea, Atkinson stubbornly insists that he is going to make Harcourt fight hard to keep his seat.

Right Hon. Mr. Gladstone will leave London to-morrow for Hawarden. The ministers, who have all assumed their desks, are busy gathering up the reins of office, and will shortly visit the Premier, there to confer in regard to the formation of the Home Rule measure, which is to be developed in the interval between now and the assembling of the House. Messrs. Sexton, Healy, Dillon and Blake will also call upon Mr. Gladstone with the same object in view.

In 1886, upon entering office, Mr. Gladstone reduced the salaries of the various under-secretaries from £1500 to £1200 per year. He has now made a further cut, bringing the pay of these officials down to £1000.

The committee will have emissaries everywhere in Ireland looking out for the slightest acts that can be construed or made to appear as outrageous. The so-called outrages will be collected and at regular intervals the matter will be brought up in the House of Commons in the shape of an interpellation addressed to the Chief Secretary for Ireland (Mr. Morley) asking him to explain how such a terrible state of society can last in Ireland under a Liberal regime.

Madame Apparuti's Fate.

PARIS, Aug. 20.—Madame Apparuti, formerly owner and editor of the Fashion Journal, published at 7 Rue de Lille, and for some time the female Worth of Paris, is dead in St. Petersburg. She was under arrest for manifold frauds. After her arrest she poured petroleum on her nightgown and set fire to it. She was severely burned and was sent to the Evangelical hospital for treatment.

Madame Apparuti exhibited on December last in the editorial room of her paper here a magnificent court mantle which she said had been made for the Empress of Russia. The price of the mantle, according to Madame Apparuti, was 150,000 francs. Special invitation cards to see it were issued to the press, to society women and to all the celebrities of financial circles, etc., and from morning till night during the three days of the exhibition the offices were filled with people belonging to the highest classes of society. The Madame had passed several years in Russia, and appeared to know the names of all the Czarina's ladies of honor and to be perfectly acquainted with the court. She also pretended to be certain of securing their custom, which was to bring her very large profits. In this way she laid the basis of her gigantic frauds. She soon gave herself out as the only official dressmaker of the Russian court, and then caused an accomplice to send her telegrams from St. Petersburg purporting to come from court ladies, ordering splendid evening toilets. When in possession of a certain number of telegrams, she applied to simple minded persons, either her customers or subscribers to her paper, for funds to carry through her enterprise. In less than two months she succeeded in getting out of her dupes the enormous sum of over $250,000 francs. Besides the Russian court she pretended to have a great many friends at the court of Denmark. She spoke of King Christian, father-in-law of Alexander III., as an intimate friend, and talked of having ordered a set of jewels costing 40,000 francs from a well-known jeweler for a present for the Queen of Denmark on the occasion of her golden wedding. On March 20th Madame Apparuti suddenly left Paris for St. Petersburg on a pretext of collecting personally the money due her for dresses ordered by the Russian ladies of honor and by the Empress herself. From that time forward no news reached Paris from the clever adventuress. The person left in charge by her was sent to St. Petersburg, where he learned that she certainly was in that city, but that she was completely unknown at the court, neither the Czarina nor any of her ladies of honor having ever ordered anything from her. The famous mantle exhibited in the Rue de Lille was found to be merely a piece of theatrical property, scarcely worth 25,000 francs. Her arrest followed this exposure.

No Italian Arbitrator.

ROME, Aug. 19.—It is reported that the Italian Government may have to decline the task of appointing a delegate to take part in the Behring sea arbitration, as the government is unable to find an acceptable person able to converse in the English language and willing to undertake the responsible mission. Fourteen prominent Italians have already refused to accept the honor. One of them, it is said, based his refusal on the New Orleans massacre, for which he declared there has not been adequate compensation.

Opium on the Umatilla.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—To-day the customs inspectors discovered sixty-five tael tins of opium in the coal bunkers of the steamer Umatilla, and siezed them. It is believed that a large quantity of the drug has been stowed away and a very careful search will be made.

PROMISING MINING FIELD.

Development in the Southern Okanagan Country—Some Rich Finds.

From the Vernon News.]

The successful treatment of the ores of camp Fairvew and the progress now being made in mining development in that locality are calculated to cause parties interested in camp McKinney and the Rock Creek district generally to chafe considerably at the delay made by the Government in constructing the long-promised wagon road to that section. Camp McKinney is at present practically abandoned, not because the mines there are not worthy of development, but solely and entirely on account of there being no means of bringing mining machinery into the camp. A great many of the claims there are better developed than those at Fairview and more money has been expended on them; the one is, however, lying idle on the dumps, and will do so until the necessary road into the camp is constructed. To give a small idea how mineral is literally "locked up" there it is only necessary to cite one case, that of the Douglas claim, owned by New York capitalists, chiefly members of the Standard Oil Company. Mr. J. Douglas, who was manager for the company, sunk at the least calculation $30,000 on the claim. Development work was carried on for over three years and opened up the lode sufficiently to prove that the quantity of ore was practically unlimited. The ledge averages six feet in width, and the ore is free milling, carrying a large percentage of sulphates. The average assay is 15 ounces of silver to the ton. A shaft has been sunk following the dip of the vein and drifts run at levels of 12, 20, 40, 80 and 112 feet. No mine in British Columbia of its class can therefore be considered as better developed. Two thousand five hundred tons of ore lie on the dump unproductive. An immense amount of money has also been expended on other claims in this camp almost too numerous to mention, but well known to mining men. In almost every case the ledges where developed have proved to be true fissure veins, no "pinch-outs" by any means, and the ore generally entirely free milling. An immense quantity of hidden wealth lies therefore idle for want of transport facilities. It would be well therefore to recognize the fact that Camp Fairview is by no means the only mining camp in the lower country. The latter certainly enjoys a splendid situation rendering development work comparatively easy, but there is little doubt that several of the other mineral districts in Osooyos, Similkameen and Kettle river are equally rich, if not more so, and will certainly come to the front as soon as the lower country is opened up by railways and wagon roads. Take the north fork of the Kettle river, for instance. In what is generally known as the volcanic mountains, one company is operating on the Ophir mine. This is an immense deposit of ore. The owners have run in a tunnel 175 feet and are now preparing to put in electric drills. The average assays made of the ore are 20 in gold and 13 in silver to the ton. The width of the lode is almost 200 feet and shows up over 4000 feet on the surface. There is no more promising mine than this in British Columbia, but at present it appears as if no railway will be permitted to enter the Grand Prairie section from across the line, and it is a moral certainty that no railway will ever or come in from any other direction. Taylor's ledge is something quite above the average, is 15 feet wide between the walls, the average assay of the ore being close on $400 silver. It is scarcely necessary to mention the well known camps lying between Boundary Creek and Grand Prairie, Smith's Atwood, Deadwood, Copper, etc., nor the exceptionally promising prospects on Boundary Creek itself, nor need we mention the coal beds of the Kettle river and Rock creek. It is sufficient to state that between Okanagan lake and the Columbia river on the British Columbia side of the line, a mineral belt exists of exceptional richness, which only needs capital to develop it, aided by a progressive policy on the part of the Domition and Provincial governments. This section will of a certainty come to the front ere long, but its progress can be greatly delayed if proper transport facilities are not granted. The first move in this direction should be the long deferred road into Camp McKinney, which could eventually be continued on eastward by degrees as far as Cascade city or even Trail, with branch roads to the various mining camps on each side. This would naturally involve the expenditure of a large sum of money, but the Province would be amply repaid by the increased revenue to be drawn from the district which would thus be opened up.

A large number of prospectors have lately arrived at Fourth of July Creek, also at Boundary Creek.

Several squatters have already located on the Colville Indian reserve, opposite Grand Prairie, although it has not yet been thrown open for settlement.

Messrs. Elliot and Moffat have built a 10-room addition to their hotel.

Another rich strike was made on the Silver Crown last week, on the north drift. The one carries both gold and silver. Development work on their claim and on the Joe Dandy and Wide West is being carried on with vigor.

A number of American experts have lately been examining the principal mining properties in the camp.

The Troops Were Ambushed.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 19.—Three militia and two miners were killed in this morning's battle between the Knoxville volunteers and miners at Coal Creek, and several on each side were wounded. The dead and wounded militiamen were brought here to-night. The volunteers reached Offetts, a small village four miles from Coal Creek, about 11 o'clock this morning, and began the march over the mountains to Coal Creek. They had not proceed far when three men, all uniformed, and claiming to be friendly, appeared and offered to pilot the regiment down the mountain. Without suspicion the troops followed them into a well-planned ambush, within a quarter of a mile of Coal Creek, where a sudden attack was made upon them from behind boulders and trees. The fire was at once returned, but not until several of the militiamen fell. The attacking party, however, were all well armed, and greatly outnumbered the militiamen. The odds were greatly against the latter. The order to retreat was given and promptly obeyed, and the volunteers returned to Offatts. Later, under a flag of truce, they returned and took away the dead and wounded, and brought them to Knoxville to-night.

General Carnes wires that he is in full control of everything at Coal Creek. He arrested 250 citizens of Coal Creek, and told the miners he would hold them as hostages until Major Anderson, captured yesterday by the miners, was given up. Major Anderson was turned over to General Carnes at 4:30 p.m.

MONDAY'S VOTING.

The citizens are no doubt bearing in mind the duty that will devolve on them on Monday of pronouncing their verdict on the five by-laws then to be submitted, but it may be permitted the TIMES once more to refer to these briefly. The by-laws are for the following purposes:—

For sewer construction, $300,000.
For a city hospital, $100,000.
For Board of Health, $75,000.
For electric lighting, $60,000.
For library expenditure (per year), $3,000.

The library by-law is not meant to authorize the raising of money, but to allow the council to increase the yearly expenditure on the library from $1200 to $3000. This sum will come, as the smaller one does now, from the yearly general revenue. The $60,000 asked for electric light purposes is absolutely necessary if there is to be any extension of lighting facilities for the city, and it is pretty well agreed that there should be such extension. The present plant is overworked without affording such light as is desirable; not one new light can be furnished from it. Besides, it may break down under the high pressure at which it is worked and leave the city streets in semi-darkness.

In regard to sewerage, there is also a general desire to see the work already done supplemented. It appears to us that there is little utility now in controversies over what is done; the chief fact to be borne in mind is that the work already executed is practically useless until the remainder of the scheme is carried out, and this cannot be done until the money is borrowed. All the past expenditure on the system means so much dead investment until the proposed further expenditure renders the system available.

As to the $75,000 by-law, the TIMES has already spoken at considerable length in consequence of the attempts made to secure its rejection. It has been most conclusively shown that the Council must borrow money to meet the smallpox expenses; it cannot be taken from the year's revenue, since that is hardly sufficient to meet the ordinary demands. The Attorney-General at Thursday night's meeting undertook to advise the rejection of this by-law on the ground that it provided for borrowing more money than was necessary; he said this by-law should be defeated and the Council compelled to wait until it knows the exact amount. Now the Attorney-General can hardly be ignorant of clause 118 of the Municipal Act, which was passed through the Legislature last session under his special guidance. That clause reads:—

If any by-law which requires the assent of the electors is rejected by them, no other by-law for the same purpose shall be submitted to the electors during the same year.

From this it must be plain to the dullest mind that if the present Board of Health by-law is defeated no other for the same purpose can be submitted this year. Wherefore the consequence of its defeat would be the inability of the council to borrow the needed money, and then, we suppose, the Attorney-General would be at liberty to carry out his threat of "putting in the sheriff." However agreeable this might be to Premier Davie, the electors, we believe, will prefer to vote for the by-law, and so give the council power to borrow the money. And once more we repeat the fact that the whole $75,000 will not be raised if it is not all needed. Before any of the money is borrowed, the council will be in a better position than now to say just how much of its borrowing power it will need to exercise, and the remainder can be allowed to lapse unless another emergency should arise—which we all hope will not be the case.

Coming lastly to the Hospital by law, the TIMES does not find itself free to endorse the proposal of the council. There is much to be said in favor of the city erecting a hospital for infectious diseases; the need of one has been most unpleasantly impressed on the minds of the citizens. Much money would have been saved and a great deal of trouble avoided if there had been such an institution available at the time of the late outbreak. It must also be remembered that there is always a danger of a fresh importation of infectious disease from the Orient, and that on some future occasion the possession of a proper infectious disease hospital may be of vast benefit to the city. Further, it would be a good idea to have the long-talked of crematory in the same vicinity. But the TIMES does not feel inclined to favor the proposal that the city should go into the general hospital business, for we believe the hospital needs of the community can be attended to more advantageously otherwise. All the other by-laws we unhesitatingly commend to the favorable consideration of the electors, and we have little doubt that they will all be carried.

FOOD ADULTERATION.

The growth of this city and province demands a reconsideration of many topics that hitherto have been allowed to go by default. It is doubtless difficult for many old timers to realize that the same conditions of usage and public convenience do not apply to-day as in the years that are gone. The Dominion statute relating to the adulteration of food and drugs has through the sparseness of population and the costly machinery it perhaps involved, been allowed to lie dormant. It is time, however, that the Dominion Government, urged to its duty by the corporation of Victoria, should put in force here the provisions of the Adulteration Act of 1886. It goes without saying that in the absence of all supervision affecting the food of the people, the viands consumed are largely adulterated. Imported goods as well as those of home production are manipulated to increase the profits of the vendor. The introduction by one dealer of adulterated goods naturally causes some other dealers in the same goods to follow suit, bringing as a natural sequence the standard of excellence of all lower than it otherwise would be.

In individual cases there is scandalous adulteration. For instance, it is known that much lard (American) is diluted with water; pepper and the other spices have various adulterants introduced in order to lessen cost; bread is whitened with alum; butter is often intermingled with oleomargarine, in spite of Dominion tariff laws; milk, the food of infants and invalids, is largely diluted with water; canned good are colored atrociously in order to brighten the appearance and supposed salable quality of the article, and coffee is adulterated with chicory, roasted wheat and other grain. Trade marks are tampered with in the most flagrant manner, and the name of the article on the package is often no true indication of the product sold.

This is no fault of the merchants. We unhesitatingly avow our faith in the probity and honor of our trading classes. There are black sheep in every flock and dishonest traders who sell shoddy for wool in every community. But the grocers, bakers, druggists and milk-sellers are doubtless as respectable a class of merchants as any other class in the community; and it is in their interest as well as in that of the general public to demand that the standard of goods vended be pure; that it be so ordered by statute and enforced by penalties under the law. Is it not in the interest of a grocer, for instance, who honestly desires to sell pure and unadulterated pepper, to see that his rival cannot sell without fear of detection and consequent loss of prestige pepper adulterated by ground olive stones? Or a milkseller who sells unwatered milk to know that his neighbor who uses freely from the "iron cow" cannot do this without incurring heavy penalties under the statute? Or a baker who uses high class flour in its pure state to feel that his neighbor may not use inferior flour assisted by alum without the fear of the police magistrate always before him? Merchandise should be what it is supposed to be in common repute. "Coals is coals," said a dealer one day in order to obtain a higher price for the black diamonds. "I am glad of that," said the customer, "for the last ton I received was nearly half slate." The name upon the package should be the true indication of the articles sold. A purchaser should be assured of the nature and quality of his purchase.

In the mother country legislation was enacted a few years ago in order to give effect to the growing discontent of the people in this matter, and the experience of later years has proved the wisdom of such legislation. The city and country police have power under the "Food Adulteration Act," to compulsorily obtain samples of any goods offered for sale, to take such samples to a Government analyst and prosecute all offenders against the law. Numbers of successful prosecutions took place immediately after the act was passed, but to-day the offenders are but few and far between. The adulteration act passed by the Dominion Government in 1886, is a milder form of the same legislation. It allows the Governor-in-Council to appoint an analyst for any district or territory, creates the officers of inland revenue or inspectors of weights and measures visiting inspectors under the act, and empowers a municipality to appoint a special inspector who shall compulsorily obtain samples of food and drugs for analyzing. If such samples be found by the analyst's certificate to be adulterated contrary to the statute's provisions, then the vendors of such goods shall be summoned for such offence, and penalties, if convicted, shall follow. This act hitherto has been a dead-letter in this province, for causes easily explainable and reasonable; but the spirit of progress and enquiry that is abroad requires that our city fathers shall take action in this matter.

THE BY-LAWS.

Dr. Milne Points Out the Importance of Their Being Carried on Monday.

TO THE EDITOR,—Not having an opportunity to give my views at the public meeting called to discuss the by-laws soon to be voted on by the ratepayers, I might be permitted to do so now. The by-law for raising a sum of $300,000 for sewerage I consider a very necessary one, as the work that has already been done will remain unused until the work is more extended than it is at present. The system on which the sewers are constructed, namely, the separate system, is a good one, and has proved successful in other cities where it has been adopted. Owing to the large amount of rock cutting in Victoria any system will cost more, I believe, than at first estimated. If the combined system had been adopted the cost would have been enormous, from the very fact of the amount of rock to be excavated in construction of the large sewers necessary for that system. However, it is useless to discuss or to make comparisons; the system is now adopted, and changing plans or making any alterations of any kind would only militate against the successful completion of the work. Before the drains now laid can be utilized in any way successfully, more money is required, and it is necessary that the ratepayers should vote for the present by-law providing an increased sum for sewerage purposes.

The sum of $75,000 asked for by the Board of Health is necessary, and although the full amount may not be required, it is well that it should be voted for. Only the amount necessary for the payment of expenses connected with the late epidemic will be raised for this fund. It is most likely that the Mayor and aldermen will only use for this purpose what is required and no more. So I cannot see the object of asking the ratepayers to vote down such an important by-law. The power of borrowing is safe in the hands of the Mayor and aldermen, and those who are opposing the by-law are endeavoring to still further embarrass the municipality of Victoria. A few days ago the Attorney-General took steps to make the Mayor and aldermen pay the debts of the Board of Health, and threatened to put the sheriff in charge if it were not done; while by his remarks at the public meeting he urged upon the citizens to vote down the by-law. This is consistency with a vengeance! We should certainly require another order-in-council to explain the motives of the Attorney-General in this particular.

As to the by-law for the purposes of a city hospital and land for other purposes of a sanitary nature, those things are urgently needed by the city. Take for example the late epidemic; the city authorities had no available place for buildings to take care of the sick and were driven from one place to another, so it is actually necessary that the city should own such a place for a hospital, a crematory and an Old People's Home. A city the size of Victoria should have such a place. A hospital for the poor sick is much needed. The Jubilee Hospital, we have been told time and again, is a provincial institution, and the city has no claims upon it. When the city asks to have its poor sick sent to the Jubilee Hospital, the reply invariably comes: "Why does not the city take care of its own poor?" This is a fact, notwithstanding what has been said to the contrary. Ask the Mayor or any of the city officials who are brought in contact with this class and they will endorse what I have said. A city hospital can be managed by a board of regents or directors under the city as well as a board appointed by the government or subscribers. The talk about city control is merely an objection raised in order to kill the by-law. It is not necessary that all the aldermen should be on the board of management of the hospital; only a few would be necessary, so that the management of such an institution would not bear heavily upon the time of the aldermen. On the other hand, it would be found that there are citizens who would be just as willing to give their time to an institution of this character for the city as they would for a provincial institution like the Jubilee Hospital. So the objection that the City Council has no time to attend to such work is set aside, when we look at it in a practical and proper light. We need land for the erection of an old people's home and a crematory. These we must have, and the purchase of a piece of land for all these purposes, as well as for a quarantine ground, must be made at an early date. The by-law requires that the sum of $5157 be raised annually for this purpose, spread over a term of years. The result would be of great benefit to those in need, and much less expensive than the present system.

The funeral of the late Mrs. A. J. McLellan took place this afternoon and was very largely attended. The burial services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. White, pastor of the Centennial Methodist church.

A Bad Closet.

Residents of Fort street near Vancouver complain that the closet in Assembly Hall is in a terrible condition. Something will have to be done immediately either by the sanitary officer or the owners of the hall.

A Slight Accident.

The steamer Princess Louise arrived at Vancouver last night from the north with a full cargo of salmon, principally for Victoria. She met with a slight accident on the trip and it is probable that she will be docked before returning north.

Who is the Owner.

The provincial police have still got one of the stallions found at Esquimalt in their possession and they are looking for the owner. The stallion is a bright bay, with black points and an almost invisible star on his forehead. He is about two years old.

Locksley Lucas' Suicide.

Locksley Lucas, secretary of the anti-Chinese Association of Vancouver, committed suicide at Calgary by taking morphine. He had been lecturing in that town and found himself in financial difficulties. He left a letter in which his intention to take his life was stated.

The Arrest of Long.

Sergt. Walker went over to Seattle last evening to endeavor to have Jack Long, who was arrested on Thursday in Seattle, sent back to Victoria. Long fainted when arrested but soon recovered and confessed his guilt. If he refuses to return he will be prosecuted in Seattle for taking stolen goods into the United States.

Not Found Yet.

Officer McNeill returned last evening from Otter Point, having been unsuccessful in his search for the body of the Indian woman drowned last week. The tide had washed it out again before the officer arrived, so he requested the telegraph operator to look out for it and send word to the police as soon as it was found.

The Nymphe Returns.

H.M.S. Nymphe returned at noon to-day from the North, where she has been surveying the pass where the Warspite struck a week ago. The report will be forwarded to the Admiralty office.

The Nymphe went into dock immediately after her arrival for a general overhauling.

The Skeena Pack.

Thos. McNish, of the Fisheries Department, who has returned from the Skeena, reports the salmon pack there to be as follows: Windsor cannery, North Pacific cannery, Inverness cannery, Standard cannery, Cunningham's cannery, British American cannery, Balmoral cannery and Royal Canadian cannery, each 12,000 cases. Total pack on the Skeena, 90,750 cases.

Full of Fun.

W. G. Smyth,s "Hoss and Hoss" company which will appear at the Victoria, Thursday evening next, is an unusually large one for farce-comedy, and numbers twenty-five people all told. No chorus or supers in the lot, but all clever artists. It is said to be the best singing and dancing company on the road, while the fun should be very plenty with such people as Charlie Reed and William Collier, Arthur Moulton, and the rest, to keep things lively.

Longshoremen Complain.

A number of longshoremen called at the TIMES office to-day to complain that they were being done out of their work by Chinamen. They stated that they remained up all last night to work at unloading the Wilmington, but did not get to work till 8 o'clock and worked till 11:30 discharging a part of her cargo at Turner & Beeton's wharf. The Wilmington was then moved up to the Victoria Rice Mills, when the longshoremen were told they might go, and Chinamen were put to work to unload the remainder of the cargo. The officers of the vessel, they say, were in favor of employing the white men.

Branded as a Falsehood.

Hon. D. W. Higgins was seen by a TIMES reporter this morning with reference to a telegram from Victoria published last Tuesday in the Seattle Telegraph. The dispatch stat that Mr. Higgins intended to buy up the Daily News of this city to use it as a political engine to avenge himself for disappointment in being excluded from the Davie cabinet. Mr. Higgins said: "I think any person who knows me and the history of politics in this city will see that the article contradicts itself. It is false in every particular. I cannot conceive how such an absurd idea could have originated in any man's mind. I was interviewed on the subject by a reporter for the Colonist, and certainly gave him no reason to think that I had any notion of returning to newspaper life. I haven't the slightest; and as for the charge made in the dispatch regarding politics, why it's utter nonsense. The person who sent that dispatch must have known that he was deliberately lying."

Have Decided to Build.

Mr. Fred Moore, who has been looking around the city during the past week to ascertain whether or not it would be advisable to establish chemical works in this city, has about decided to do so. He says that over 1000 pounds of chemicals such as he would make are used in Victoria every day. They can make them just as good and much cheaper than the imported article, so of course expect to supply all that is needed here. He would also make the chemicals needed for paper mills, and when the Alberni mills are running they would be able to make what the paper company needed. Mr. Moore is now looking for a site for the works.

The Seattle Excursionists.

Several hundred Seattleites arrived in the city this afternoon on the City of Seattle. They were expected about one o'clock and at that time the members of the City Council, Board of Trade and a number of private citizens were at the outer wharf to meet them. The boat, however, was over two hours late, and the reception committee dwindled down cosiderably before the boat arrived. The faithful few, however, received the visitors at the wharf and drove them around the park, Carey Castle and other points of interest. Among the visitors were the mayor and aldermen, members of the Chamber of Commerce, and other prominent citizens of Seattle. They had a delightful trip across the straits and a pleasant time while in the city.

The visitors wore badges on which was printed "Seattle most cordially greets Victoria." The members of the reception committee also wore badges to distinguish them.

Making Itself Felt.

Complaints are freely heard among the residents of James Bay ward about the sickening odors given off by the burning heaps of rubbish at the head of James Bay. In the evening especially the smell is very strong and almost enough to start a fit ofcoughing. Out of curiosity a TIMES man undertook to examine one of those heaps of incense which are incensing the James Bayans so much, and found it almost as heterogenous in its composition as the ruins of the great Tooley street fire. As a conglomeration of stinkers that heap discounted the ablest-bodied skunk in the province. The chief odoriferous article was a bundle of old overalls saturated with machine oil and grease. It was smouldering. Then there was half of a straw mattress, also singing away and emitting thick gray smoke. Tomato, oyster and salmon cans, worn out brushes, hair stuffing, piece of an old skin mat, some decayed fruit, fragments of furniture, scraps of string and rope, old boots, stable cleanings, miscellaneous papers and a thousand other articles from which the worst could be expected once they were set alight. The combined perfume is fetid, sickening and often quite unbearable to persons of delicate organism who have to encounter it. Nearly everybody over the bay would vote for a special crematory loan.

Methodist News.

In connection with the British Columbia branch of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist church in Canada, representatives are expected to arrive from all parts of the Province this evening. The sessions proper will be commenced on Monday. Morning and afternoon will be devoted specially to the business of the society, and a public meeting will be held in the evening. The session will be continued on Tuesday, when the same order of services will be observed. Three ladies who are specially noted in this work are already in the city. They have practically completed a tour of inspection of all the women's missionary work organized by Canadian Methodism. Mrs Gooderham of Toronto, who is president of the society; Mrs. Strachan of Hamilton, general secretary; and Miss Wintimute, missionary from Japan, are the three ladies, and they will specially report the places they have visited in Japan and the foreign field, together with visits paid to the Indian schools and houses in this Province. It may not be generally known that the Indian Methodist education work is assisted by the Dominion Government at the rate of $12 per pupil, the Methodist body paying the whole of the charges beyond this sum, generally as much more as the Government grant. Two of the ladies are staying at the residence of Mr. Thomas Hooper, architect. Rev. Dr. George Young, from Toronto, who was a Methodist minister at Fort Garry during Riel's rebellion and who performed the funeral rites over the body of Scott, who was executed by Riel during his short reign of power, will also take part in the meetings of the society.

THE REGATTA.

A Fine Day and a Successful Meeting for the James Bay Club.

The first annual regatta of the James Bay Athletic Association will be long remembered as one of the most delightful aquatic gatherings ever enjoyed in Victoria. The club was peculiarly favored in every way in its arrangements, as regarded the weather, the number of spectators, the course and the conduct of affairs generally inside the clubhouse and on the water. The visitors from Seattle, numbering over a thousand of that fair city's best citizens, arrived in time to see the sport, and care was taken that they should see the events to the best advantage. The fashion, beauty and wealth of Victoria came out to witness the amateur oarsmen struggle for the prizes; and the clubhouse, the docks, wharves and bridges, in fact every available vantage ground, was gay with the varicolored habilliments of the fair. Dainty lace handkerchiefs by the dozen fluttered in the hands of the ladies as they recognized some friend in the various crews; and knowing that the brightest eyes in the city were en batterie along the course, every man put muscles, nerve and wind to the straining point to help his boat to the line first, and so win the applause of the ladies; in the eyes of the true amateur athlete the best of all prizes.

Bright warm sunshine, peculiar to the month of August in Victoria—exhilarating, not enervating like the fiercely torrid blazing rays of July—flooded land and sea with soft shimmering radiance; a gentle balmy zepher from the cedared hills of Sooke and Metchosin and the illimitable blue of the Pacific beyond, breathed softly over the scene, and an unclouded sky of pure Italian blue marked the day. Every available boat in the city seemed to be bearing a load of human freight, and all the little bays and inlets along the harbor swarmed with them. The greatest satisfaction was expressed on all hands at the sensible conduct of those in the boats keeping the course clear and allowing the competitors fair play. The railway bridge, probably the best place of all to see the one mile straightaway events, was one mass of eagerly-gazing humanity, and as the boats passed under the bridge the assembled hundreds shouted encouragement to their favorites and urgent solicitations to "keep a stiff upper lip" and "get there."

At the club boat house, into which only the managing committee and the competitors were allowed, the scene was a busy one. Stroke men were "hurrying up" the crews and imparting the last few words of fatherly counsel to "pull steadily," "quit that splashing," "every man keep his eyes in the boat," "recover quickly," "don't get rattled at the word 'go,'" and many other time-honored injunctions recognized in their practice as the sine qua non of success in rowing.

On Prevost's wharf, alongside the club house, C Battery band, under the able leadership of Prof. Pferdner, discoursed beautiful music at intervals, these selections being highly enjoyed by the great throngs and winning hearty applause. James Bay bridge was, of course, patronized by sightseers to its fullest capacity, and showed from end to end rows of eager faces, set off by parti-colored parasols and sunshades at irregular intervals along the line. McIntosh's boat house sported all its bright colored bunting, and looked, to quote a gamin who hung more than half way over the bridge rail, "Immense."

Present in the upper rooms and balcony of the club house were many of the best known ladies of Victoria society and their escorts. The gymnasium was laid out for dispensing the toothsome refection so kindly and skilfully prepared by the lady friends of the club, and here, over a social cup of fragrant tea and a sweet morsel, the events of the regatta were animatedly discussed. The club colors were conspicuous everywhere, the knights of the blue and white sporting it on their jerseys, caps and rowing inexpressibles.

The management of the club are to be congratulated upon the complete success of all their arrangements, and have a perfect right to enter up August 20th in the club log book in red letters as the brightest event in the history of the association. Mr. Richard Jones, the genial and indefatigable secretary, deserves credit for his exertions and for his instrumentality in engineering the regatta as a whole. Mr. D. Sullivan, as starter, gave every satisfaction and sent the crews and scullers off without an inch of advantage to anybody. The decisions of the judges and referee were also satisfactory. Mr. MacDavisn's steam launch rendered great service in taking the officials over the course.

THE NEW VICTORIA.

The Victoria Theatre to be Re-opened Resplendent With Handsome Decorations.

Manager John Cort of the Victoria Theatre is feeling happy at the present time and is wearing a double-barrelled smile, especially every time he thinks of his beautiful renovated little theatre, the new and rejuvenated Victoria. Under the personal superintendence of Mr. Cort this popular house of intellectual refreshment has been thoroughly overhauled, repainted, redecorated, reseated, altered around and made to look like a little gem among the play houses of the Pacific coast. The work is just being finished, and that is why Mr. Cort gives expression to his feelings in a bland and picturesque smile.

A TIMES scribe visited the cosy theatre this morning, cast his eyes around the pretty temple of Thespis and felt that Victoria now possessed a theatre worthy the name. Of course the daytime is not the best time in which to inspect a theatre. Like many a society belle or popular footlight favorite it requires the glitter of a thousand lamps, the radiance of the footlights to show the theatre off to advantage. There was a "dim religious light" in the edifice this morning and the shrilly whistle of the painters away up in the gallery echoed clearly through the house. The theatre has been finished in white and gold, royal colors, and looks exceedingly handsome. The decoration has been done with a skill and artistic taste that reflect high credit on the executant.

The old proscenium boxes have been replaced by articles of modern aspect, and from which the occupants can see in comfort every part of the stage. They are twelve in number, six on each side, arranged in tiers. The style is very artistic; they are trimmed with tapestry pannels of pale blue and old gold to correspond with the rest of the house. The blending of the soft delicate colors produces an effect that is exquisite. In these boxes there is ample accommodation, and even those in the back position of the box can see the stage with ease. The seating capacity of the house has been increased to 1250, and at an early date the floor will be covered with the newest kind of folding back plush opera chairs, the metal nickel silvered, the seats and backs of maroon plush. All the old gas chandeliers have been removed in the house and lobby and replaced with beautifully designed electric light arms. Special attention has been given to the eradication of draughts and cold currents in the house, a matter of considerable complaint in the old theatre. On the stage the same march of improvement has gone on. The scenery and fixtures have been replenished and arranged, and all the machinery placed in first class order. The improvements to the house have cost over $3,000 and Manager Cort expresses himself well pleased with the result.

The theatre will be re-opened to the public on Thursday evening when the side-splitting farce comedy "Hoss and Hoss" will be presented. Manager Cort has also a rare programme of September bookings, including such stars as Yon Yonson, Nellie MacHenry and Sol. Smith Russell.

SOCIETY NOTES.

The Masons to Improve and Enlarge Their Temple in this City.

At the regular meeting of the Pride of the Island Lodge, Sons of England, benevolent society, it was decided to hold a series of concerts and socials during the winter months.

The I. O. O. F. excursion committee will meet at Odd Fellows' Hall to-night at 8 p. m. to arrange preliminaries for the excursion to Seattle on Sept. 3rd.

The district meeting of the C.O.O.F., (M.U.) is being held in Vancouver today. The following representatives went up from Victoria:

From Pride of the West Lodge—A. W. Semple, W. Blake, H. Duncan and W. McKay.

From Fernwood—J. W. Dwyer, R. Carter, S. F. McIntosh, W. Snider and J. Ramsay.

From Waverley Lodge—M. S. Wade, J. F. Smith and W. Stewart.

From Mt. Tolmie Lodge—R. H. Carter, W. F. Fullerton and H. Firth.

From Dauntless Lodge—R. Fitton, S. Sheppard, S. Pearce, W. Cunnings and J. S. Bradley.

There has been a general move among the societies lately for better accommodations. The Odd Fellows have had their hall and anti-rooms fixed up, the K. of P. are about to move into a very handsome and commodious hall, and the Masons have now decided that they need a larger building. They have therefore decided to enlarge their building at the corner of Douglas and Fisgard streets. It will also be redecorated and made one of the best meeting halls in the city. The work will either be done this fall or early in the spring.

Columbia Lodge, No. 2, I.O.O.F., has ordered a complete new outfit of paraphernalia for conferring degrees, which will be the finest in the province. The degrees will in future be given in accordance with the latest instructions from the Sovereign Grand Lodge. The new outfit is now on the road, and will be here in a few weeks.

THE OKANAGAN VALLEY.

Liquor Drinking Among the Indians Results in a Tragedy on the Reserve.

Harvest Progress—Mining News—A Settler Badly Burned—General Notes.

From the Vernon News.]

The news has just received intelligence by special messenger of a frightful affair which occurred on Tuesday on the Indian reserve on the west side of Okanagan lake. On Saturday last an Indian named Mitchell was supplied with liquor by some whites, and raised a row for which he was arrested and kept in confinement until Monday, when he was released. Shortly after his release he was again supplied with liquor by some unknown parties, and immediately crossed over the lake where a general carousal took place and a row was soon in progress. In it Mitchell became violent when another Indian "Little John" levelled a rifle and shot Mitchell, killing him instantly. When the news of the killing reached Mr. F. Brent, J. P., at the Mission yesterday morning, he at once sent a constable to have Little John arrested, but the latest news received states that the murderer had cleared out, taking the rifle along, so that he evidently intends to sell his life as dearly as possible. The party who gave the liquor in this case will have something to answer for if found out. Mr. Brent says that at no time during the last thirty years has the law with regard to furnishing liquor to the Indians been so persistently violated as it is at present.

Messrs. Cargill & Co., and Riley & Patterson have each donated one lot at Armstrong as a site for the proposed Presbyterian church.

It is generally understood that fall races will be held at Okanagan Mission (Kelowna) as well as at Vernon and Enderby. There is some talk of forming a district turf club.

The report in a coast paper to the effect that Mr. Brewer had sold out his mill at Armstrong is incorrect.

Mr. G. G. McKay was accompanied to Vernon on Monday by Mr. Warren, engineer of Victoria, and the News is violating no confidence in stating that a scheme is on foot which will tend to promote very largely the material interests of Vernon and vicinity. The object in view is that of making Long lake the centre of an irrigation and waterworks scheme that will afford means to Vernon to secure a splendid system of waterworks, and establish on the bench lands a system of irrigation that will transform the slopes of this valley into a veritable Eden. The plan in the rough is to put in at Long lake powerful pumping machinery to force the water into a large reservoir on the mountain, from which it could be conveyed to any point required.

The Rattler mine mill, at Fairview, has changed hands and increased activity has been the result.

Mr. R. Ochsner has purchased property adjoining the Spring brewery and purposes shortly to erect additional buildings and go into malting.

Local agents report an immense demand for binding twine during the past week, very few ranchers having ordered beforehand, or having anything like a sufficient supply on hand.

Messrs. Barnes and Morand have the contract to build a hotel in White Valley for Messrs. Falconer & Kerr. The building is to be a two-story 40 by 40, with a kitchen 16 by 16 attached, the whole to be plastered throughout. Commencement will be made very shortly.

Messrs. H. C. Andrews and R. D. Fleming, of the Silver Crown Mining Co., returned to Fairview on Saturday. The company have located an extension of the Joe Dandy, which they have named the Denver. The ore as far as prospected is similar to that of the former claim, perfectly free milling, carrying a very small percentage of sulphurets. The sulphurets of the Silver Crown ore are 90 per cent. free milling. It has been calculated that the Joe Dandy ore can be milled at a cost of $2 per ton, and two tons to the stamp per day.

Mr. Charles Mair, the author of the drama, "Tecumseh," has decided to make his home at the Mission.

About the latter part of July a character named McPhee appeared in Vernon and staid around for several days. In the absence of Mr. Tronson, of the Victoria Hotel, he took the opportunity to present a cheque in his favor for $25 on the Bank of British Columbia, and alleged to be signed by Mr. Cooke, the tailor. The bar-tender of the Victoria paid him $5 on it. When Mr. Tronson saw it he recollected that he had seen reference made to McPhee in the coast papers where the fellow was represented to the public in a rather unenviable light. He wrote the bank at Vancouver, sending forward the cheque and had it returned to him with the word "Forged" written across the face in red ink, while a letter from the manager explained that it was merely another of a series of such performances on the part of McPhee.

LANSDOWNE.

Mr. Frank Young who lives near here has procured a new heading machine which is now in operation. The machine precedes the horses and makes a 12-foot cut. It is propelled by eight horses, and takes the heads off the grain and stows them away in a large box. These heads are taken to a thresher which is at work in the field and there thrashed out, one heading machine being sufficient to keep a thrasher in operation.

The trustees of the Lansdowne public school have been unfortunate in the matter of securing a teacher for their school, which was rendered vacant this summer. There are 15 applications for the position and those holding the best qualifications were chosen. The first four were communicated with, but each in turn was found to have secured a situation elsewhere, until it looks as if the opening of school would find the board without a teacher. One teacher after accepting the position coolly wired a few days afterwards that he had done better elsewhere.

At the town hall here will be carried out the legal steps necessary to the inauguration of municipal government in the interior of British Columbia. Nomination for the new municipality of Spallumcheen will take place here on September 10, election on September 17, and the new council will hold its meetings in Lansdowne, as the location is fairly central and Lansdowne town hall is the most suitable meeting place.

Miss Isaacs, of Port Hammond, has been secured to teach the public school in Pleasant Valley.

Haying is completed on Mr. Lumby's ranch and is an excellent crop.

WHITE VALLEY NOTES.

Paul Bassett, of White Valley, was up before His Honor Judge Spinks on Saturday charged with breaking section 15 of the Fisheries Act, 1886, which provides that "everyone who throws or allows to drift into any stream frequented by fish, sawdust or mill rubbish shall incur a penalty not exceeding $100. In this case Mr. Bassett pleaded guilty and was fined $50. His Honor intimated, however, that a repetition of this offence would be followed by a much heavier fine.

Haying is pretty well advanced in White Valley and is a good crop, although it looked backward for a long time owing to the almost unprecedented high water of this year.

Mr. Peter Bassett has tackled the hay question with his usual vigor and has 200 tons already in stack. He will cut about 300 tons of hay this year, 275 of which will be a first class quality of timothy.

LOWER COUNTRY ITEMS.

Haying has commenced on Anarchist mountain. Mr. Augersinger has his mower at work cutting 40 acres of grain hay. George O'Neil is cutting bunch grass and intends putting up 100 tons. There are now 16 settlers on this mountain and room for 16 more.

On the 28th of last month Constable McMyn had a desperate encounter with a notorious character named Barney Deering, for whom he had a warrant for his arrest. Deering, who makes his home on the Colville Indian reservation and crosses over once in a while to investigate things on this side of the line, stopped at Elcotte over night. McMyn, who was lying in wait for him, immediately on his appearance (11 o'clock at night) arrested him. In the struggle that ensued McMyn struck him over the head with his revolver, drawing first blood. The struggle then was for the possession of the weapon. Deering, seeing that he was going to be captured, made a dash for the window, breaking all the frames out and succeeded in getting out, but falling as he did so, when McMyn again grabbed him, but as he was leaning out of the window Deering had the purchase on him and succeeded in getting away.

There is now a daily stage from Penticton to Kruger's, but the postoffice authorities still only allow a monthly mail. There is some dissatisfaction at the delay in putting through the road to Kettle River.

On August 9th a destructive fire started near the "He He" store on the Colville reservation and from that spread rapidly in all directions. On its approach towards Anarchist Mountain the settlers there, 16 in number, turned out and by plowing round the fire and other means succeeded in saving the range on the Canadian side. So far only one serious calamity is known, that is the case of George Sutherland. He is a very old man, and was found by Mr. Coryell and two others lying on the edge of Rock Creek. He was badly burnt about the face and hands, his eyes are injured and he seems paralyzed about the hips. Altogether he is perfectly helpless. As far as can be understood he was caught by the fire while prospecting on the Colville reservation. It overtook him so suddenly that he could save nothing, his blankets, clothing, saddle, etc., all being destroyed. Both of his horses are badly burned, one of which will die. Mr. Coryell with great difficulty brought him as far as Mr. R. G. Sidley's place, where he now lies and where everything possible is being done for him.

USE MY LETTER, BUT WITHHOLD MY NAME.

A gentleman, occupying a high position in the Government at Ottawa, briefly relates his experience with Paine's Celery Compound. At his special request we refrain from publishing his name, but his opinion will carry much weight, and will help to give encouragement and hope to all who are suffering.

He says:—"The duties and cares of office work and lack of muscular and out-door exercise made my life wretched and miserable. I became dyspeptic and sleepless, weak and emaciated; and my physician barely kept me alive. I was losing ground fast, when a dear friend recommended your valuable Paine's Celery Compound. I began to use it with many doubts; these, however, were entirely dispelled after the first bottle was used. Up to the present time I have taken six bottles of the Compound, and find myself completely stored. I have increased in flesh and muscle; I eat and sleep well, and can get through my work with ease. I cannot praise Paine's Celery Compound sufficiently; it requires an abler pen than mine to do it justice. I certainly think it marvellous in its effects, and will ever strongly recommend it. You may use my letter in your work, but kindly withhold my name."

"THE NAME HIGH OVER ALL."

The Subject of Dr. Talmage's Sermon in an Ancient Scottish Town.

Dying Testimonies of Many Eminent Men as to its Power to Alleviate Sorrow.

LONDON, July 31.—Since his return from Russia Dr. Talmage has been literally flooded with invitations to address congregations and lyceums on the subject of his journey to the land of the czar, whither he went with Mr. Louis Klopsch to direct the distribution of The Christian Herald relief cargo. While expressing his high appreciation of the cordial welcome and splendid hospitality extended by the officials of St. Petersburg and Moscow, of the civic honors heaped upon the American visitors and of Russia's national gratitude to America, as personally expressed by the czarowitz at Peterhof, where he entertained them as guests, Dr. Talmage has been compelled to adhere to his original programme. During the week he has been preaching in the leading Scottish cities. His arrangements for next week include services at Newcastle and Sunderland, and thereafter he goes to the Isle of Man for a few days. The sermon selected for this week is entitled "Pre-eminent," the text being John iii, 31, "He that cometh from above is above all."

The most conspicuous character of history steps out upon the platform. The finger which, diamonded with light, pointed down to him from the Bethlehem sky, was only a ratification of the finger of prophecy, the finger of genealogy, the finger of chronology, the finger of events—all five fingers pointing in one direction. Christ is the overtopping figure of all time. He is the vox humana in all music, the gracefulest line in all sculpture, the most exquisite mingling of lights and shades in all painting, the acme of all climaxes, the dome of all cathedraled grandeur and the peroration of all splendid language.

The Greek alphabet is made up of twenty-four letters, and when Christ compared himself to the first letter and the last letter, the alpha and the omega, he appropriated to himself all the splendors that you can spell out either with those two letters and all letters between them. "I am the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end, the first and the last." Or, if you prefer the words of the text, "above all."

It means, after you have piled up all Alpine and Himalayan altitudes, the glory of Christ would have to spread its wings and descend a thousand leagues to touch those summits. Pelion, a high mountain of Thessaly; Ossa, a high mountain, and Olympus, a high mountain; but mythology tells us when the giants warred against the gods they piled up these three mountains and from the top of them proposed to scale the heavens; but the height was not great enough and there was a complete failure. And after all the giants—Isaiah and Paul, prophetic and apostolic giants; Raphael and Michael Angelo, artistic giants; cherubim and seraphim and archangel, celestial giants—have failed to climb to the top of Christ's glory, they might all well unite in the words of the text and say, "He that cometh from above is above all."

THE CENTRAL THEME IN PREACHING.

First, Christ must be above all else in our preaching. There are so many books on homiletics scattered through the world that all laymen, as well as all clergymen, have made up their minds what sermons ought to be. That sermon is most effectual which most pointedly puts forth Christ as the pardon of all sin and the correction of all evil, individual, social, political, national. There is no reason why we should ring the endless changes on a few phrases. There are those who think that if an exhortation or a discourse have frequent mention of justification, sanctification, covenant of works and covenant of grace, that, therefore it must be profoundly evangelical, while they are suspicious of a discourse which presents the same truth, but under different phraseology.

Now, I say there is nothing in all the opulent realm of Anglo-Saxonism or all the word treasures that we inherited from the Latin and the Greek and the Indo-European but we have a right to marshal it in religious discussion. Christ sets the example. His illustrations were from the grass, the flowers, the spittle, the salve, the barnyard fowl, the crystals of salt, as well as from the seas and the stars, and we do not propose in our Sabbath school teaching and in our pulpit address to be put on the limits.

I know that there is a great deal said in our day against words, as though they were nothing. They may be misused, but they have an imperial power. They are the bridge between soul and soul, between Almighty God and the human race. What did God write upon the tables of stones? Words. What did Christ utter on Mount Olivet? Words. Out of what did Christ strike the spark for the illumination of the universe? Out of words. "Let there be light," and light was. Of course thought is the cargo and words are only the ship, but how fast would your cargo get on without the ship?

What you need, my friends, in all your work, in your Sabbath school class, in your reformatory institutions, and what we all need is to enlarge our vocabulary when we come to speak about God and Christ and heaven. We ride a few old words to death when there is such illimitable resource. Shakespeare employed fifteen thousand different words for dramatic purposes; Milton employed eight thousand different words for poetic purposes; Rufus Choate employed over eleven thousand different words for legal purposes, but the most of us have less than a thousand words that we can manage, less than five hundred, and that makes us so stupid.

ALL SWEET WORDS NEEDED.

When we come to set forth the love of Christ we are going to take the tenderest phraseology wherever we find it, and if it has never been used in that direction before, all the more shall we use it. When we come to speak of the glory of Christ, the conqueror, we are going to draw our similes from triumphal arch and oratorio and everything grand and stupendous. The French navy have eighteen flags by which they give signal, but those eighteen flags they can put into sixty-six thousand different combinations. And I have to tell you that these standards of the cross may be lifted into combinations infinite and varieties everlasting. And let me say to young men who are after awhile going to preach Jesus Christ, you will have the largest liberty and unlimited resource. You only have to present Christ in your own way.

Jonathan Edwards preached Christ in the severest argument ever penned, and John Bunyan preached Christ in the sublimest allegory ever composed. Edward Payson, sick and exhausted, leaned up against the side of the pulpit and wept out his discourse, while George Whitefield, with the manner and the voice and the start of an actor, overwhelmed his auditory. It would have been a different thing if Jonathan Edwards had tried to write and dream about the pilgrim's progress to the celestial city or John Bunyan had attempted an essay on the human will.

Brighter than the light, fresher than the fountains, deeper than the seas are all these Gospel themes. Song has no melody, flowers have no sweetness, sunset sky has no color compared with these glorious themes. These harvests of grace spring up quicker than we can sickle them. Kindling pulpits with their fire, and producing revolutions with their power, lighting up dying beds with their glory, they are the sweetest thought for the poet, and they are the most thrilling illustration for the orator, and they offer the most intense scene for the artist, and they are to the embassador of the sky all enthusiasm. Complete pardon for direst guilt. Sweetest comfort for ghastliest agony. Brightest hope for grimmest death. Grandest resurrection for darkest sepulcher.

Oh, what a Gospel to preach! Christ over all in it. His birth, his suffering, his miracles, his parables, his sweat, his tears, his blood, his atonement, his intercession—what glorious themes! Do we exercise faith? Christ is its object. Do we have love? It fastens on Jesus. Have we a fondness for the church? It is because Christ died for it. Have we a hope of heaven? It is because Jesus went ahead, the herald and the forerunner.

The royal robe of Demetrius was so costly, so beautiful, that after he had put it off no one ever dared put it on; but this robe of Christ, richer than that, the poorest, and the wanest, and the worst may wear. "Where sin abounded grace may much more abound."

THE JOY OF THE CONVERTED.

"Oh, my sins, my sins," said Martin Luther to Staupitz; "my sins, my sins!" The fact is that the brawny German student had found a Latin Bible that had made him quake, and nothing else ever did make him quake; and when he found how, through Christ, he was pardoned and saved, he wrote to a friend, saying: "Come over and join us great and awful sinners saved by the grace of God. You seem to be only a slender sinner, and you don't much extol the mercy of God; but we who have been such very awful sinners praise his grace the more now that we have been redeemed."

Can it be that you are so desperately egotistical that you feel yourself in first rate spiritual trim, and that from the foot of the hair to the tip of the toe you are scarless and immaculate? What you need is a looking glass, and here it is in the Bible. Poor and wretched and miserable and blind and naked from the crown of the head to the sole of the foot, full of wounds and putrefying sores. No health in us. And then take the fact that Christ gathered up all the notes against us and paid them, and then offered us the receipt

And how much we need him in our sorrows! We are independent of circumstances if we have his grace. Why, he made Paul sing in the dungeon, and under that grace St. John from desolate Patmos heard the blast of the apocalyptic trumpets. After all other candles have been snuffed out, this is the light that gets brighter and brighter unto the perfect day. and after, under the hard hoofs of calamity, all the pools of worldly enjoyment have been trampled into deep mire, at the foot of the eternal rock the Christian, from cups of granite, lily rimmed and vine covered, puts out the thirst of his soul.

Again, I remark that Christ is above all in dying alleviations. I have not any sympathy with the morbidity abroad about our demise. The emperor of Constantinople arranged that on the day of his coronation the stonemason should come and consult him about his tombstone that after awhile he would need. And there are men who are monomanical on the subject of departure from this life by death, and the more they think of it the less they are prepared to go. This is an unmanliness not worthy of you, not worthy of me.

THE HERO'S DEATH.

Saladin, the greatest conqueror of his day, while dying, ordered the tunic he had on him to be carried after his death on a spear at the head of his army, and then the soldier ever and anon should stop and say: "Behold, all that is left of Saladin, the emperor and conqueror! Of all the states he conquered, of all the wealth he accumulated, nothing did he retain but this shroud!" I have no sympathy with such behavior, or such absurd demonstration, or with much that we hear uttered in regard to departure from this life to the next. There is a commonsensical idea on this subject that you and I need to consider—that there are only two styles of departure.

A thousand feet underground, by light of torch toiling in a miner's shaft, a ledge of rock may fall upon us and we may die a miner's death. Far out at sea, falling from the slippery ratlines and broken on the halyards we may die a sailor's death. On mission of mercy in hospital, amid broken bones and reeking leprosies and raging fevers we may die a philanthropist's death. On the field of battle, serving God and our country, the gun carriage may roll over us and we may die a patriot's death. But after all there are only two styles of departure—the death of the righteous and the death of the wicked, and we all want to die the former.

God grant that when that hour comes you may be at home! You want the hand of your kindred in your hand. You want your children to surround you. You want the light on your pillow from eyes that have long reflected your love. You want the room still. You do not want any curious strangers standing around watching you. You want your kindred from afar to hear your last prayer. I think that is the wish of all of us. But is that all? Can earthly friends hold us when the billows of death come up to the girdle? Can human voice charm open heaven's gate? Can human hands pilot us through the narrows of death into heaven's harbor? Can an earthly friendship shield us from the arrows of death and in the hour when satan shall practice upon us his infernal archery? No, no, no, no! Alas! poor soul, if that is all. Better die in the wilderness, far from tree shadow and from fountain, alone, vultures circling through the air waiting for our body, unknown to men, and to have no burial, if only Christ could say through the solitudes, "I will never leave thee, I will never forsake thee." From that pillow of stone a ladder would soar heavenward, angels coming and going; and across the solitude and the barrenness would come the sweet notes of heavenly minstrelsy.

DEATH OF THE CHRISTIAN.

Gordon Hall, far from home, dying in the door of a heathen temple, said, "Glory to thee, O God!" What did dying Wilberforce say to his wife? "Come and sit beside me, and let us talk of heaven. I never knew what happiness was until I found Christ." What did dying Hannah More say? "To go to heaven; think what that is! To go to Christ, who died that I might live! Oh, glorious grave! Oh, what a glorious thing it is to die! Oh, the love of Christ, the love of Christ!" What did Mr. Toplady, the great hymn maker, say in his last hour? "Who can measure the depth of the third heaven? Oh, the sunshine that fills my soul! I shall soon be gone, for surely no one can live in this world after such glories as God has manifested to my soul."

What did the dying Faneway say? "I can as easily die as close my eyes or turn my head in sleep. Before a few hours have passed I shall stand on Mount Zion with the one hundred and forty and four thousand, and with the just men made perfect, and we shall ascribe riches and honor and glory and majesty and dominion unto God and the Lamb." Dr. Taylor, condemned to burn at the stake, on his way thither broke away from the guardsmen and went bounding and leaping and jumping toward the fire, glad to go to Jesus and to die for him. Sir Charles Hare in his last moment had such rapturous vision that he cried, "Upward, upward, upward!"

And so great was the peace of one of Christ's disciples that he put his fingers upon the pulse in his wrist and counted it and observed it; and so great was his placidity that after awhile he said, "Stopped," and his life had ended here to begin in heaven. But grander than that was the testimony of the worn out first missionary when in the Mamartine dungeon he cried: "I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand; I have fought the good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith; henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, will give me in that day, and not to me only, but to all them that love his appearing!" Do you not see that Christ is above all in dying alleviations?

Toward the last hour of our earthly residence we are speeding. When I see the sunset I say, "One day less to live." When I see the spring blossoms scattered I say, "Another season gone forever." When I close this Bible on Sabbath night I say, "Another Sabbath departed." When I bury a friend I say, "Another earthly attraction gone forever." What nimble feet the years have! The roebucks and the lightnings run not so fast. From decade to decade, from sky to sky, they go at a bound.

There is a place for us, whether marked or not, where you and I will sleep the last sleep, and the men are now living who will, with solemn tread, carry us to our resting place. Aye, it is known in heaven whether our departure will be a coronation or a banishment. Brighter than a banqueting hall through which the light feet of the dancers go up and down to the sound of trumpeters will be the sepulcher through whose rifts the holy light of heaven streameth. God will watch you. He will send his angels to guard your slumbering ground until, at Christ's behest, they shall roll away the stone.

So also Christ is above all in heaven. The Bible distinctly says that Christ is the chief theme of the celestial ascription, all the thrones facing his throne, all the palms waved before his face, all the crowns down at his feet. Cherubim to cherubim, seraphim to seraphim, redeemed spirit to redeemed spirit shall recite the Saviour's earthly sacrifice.

THE GLORIOUS COMPANY OF THE REDEEMED.

Stand on some high hill of heaven, and in all the radiant sweep the most glorious object will be Jesus. Myriads gazing on the scars of his suffering, in silence first, afterward breaking forth into acclamation. The martyrs, all the purer for the flame through which they passed, will say, "This is Jesus, for whom we died." The apostles, all the happier for the shipwreck and the scourging through which they went, will say, "This is the Jesus whom we preached at Corinth, and at Cappadocia, and at Antioch, and at Jerusalem." Little children clad in white will say, "This is the Jesus who took us in his arms and blessed us, and when the storms of the world were too cold and loud brought us into this beautiful place." The multitudes of the bereft will say, "This is the Jesus who comforted us when our heart broke." Many who had wandered clear off from God and plunged into vagabondism, but were saved by grace, will say: "This is the Jesus who pardoned us. We were lost on the mountains, and he brought us home. We were guilty, and he made us white as snow." Mercy boundless, grace unparalleled. And then, after each one has recited his peculiar deliverances and peculiar mercies, recited them as by solo, all the voices will come together in a great chorus, which shall make the arches echo and re-echo with the eternal reverberation of gladness and peace and triumph.

Edward I was so anxious to go to the Holy Land that when he was about to expire he bequeathed $160,000 to have his heart after his decease taken to the Holy Land in Asia Minor, and his request was complied with. But there are hundreds today whose hearts are already in the holy land of heaven. Where your treasures are there are your hearts also. John Bunyan, of whom I spoke at the opening of the discourse, caught a glimpse of that place, and in his quaint way he said: "And I heard in my dream, and lo! the bells of the city rang again for joy; and as they opened the gates to let in the men I looked in after them, and lo! the city shone like the sun, and there were streets of gold, and men walked on them, harps in their hands, to sing praises with all; and after that they shut up the gates, which when I had seen I wished myself among them!"

SEWERAGE SCHEME DISCUSSED.

A Criticism of Mr. Mohun and His Pamphlet by Richard Pickering, of Whitehaven, England.

The Reprehensible Tactics of Former Councils Condemned—The Outfall Objected To.

The following extracts from a private letter from Mr. Pickering, of Pickering & Crompton, the sanitary engineers of Whitehaven, Eng., who prepared plans for a system of sewers for Victoria, will be read with interest at the present time when the air is again full of the subject. The letter was received by Mr. Thornton Fell, barrister:

I am not much surprised to hear that Victoria is not quite so buoyant at present. Heavy taxation is one great factor in checking capital flowing into the country. We pay 6d. in the £ here, but the personal tax in British Columbia seems to be about 10d. in the £. As a rule it is unsound to bolster up concerns, such as railways, mills and other commercial concerns, with bonuses and exemptions from rates, etc. Nine cases out of ten they come to grief notwithstanding. My idea is British Columbia is a producing or ought to be a producing country for fish, lumber, fruit, minerals, and bye and bye for grain and other natural products. We would be prepared and do admit all things here nearly duty free, and our manufactures should be admitted into Canada nearly, if not entirely, free. If Britain and her colonies had a commercial federation, on reciprocal lines, it would be well for the great masses both in the Mother Country and her colonies.

With regard to sewerage of the city, you will have perhaps received or seen a pamphlet recently issued no doubt by the corporation, but signed by Mohun the engineer, in which the veriest rot is served up for gullible citizens to swallow. He professes to show that the system, being carried out by him meets with the approval of all the most reliable authorities on the drainage of towns in Britain, the United States and Canada. Well, for the present the United States and Canada may be left out. British engineers have carried out the greatest number and the largest works of drainage in all the countries of the world. They approve both the separate system as it is called, and the combined system equally, but what they do is to study which of the systems is applicable and best suited to a town or city. In the case of inland cities, where the sewage has to be cleansed before the affluent passes either on to a limited space of land or into a river, it is important to contract the volume of sewage for treatment, and the separate system comes in, but this is attended with another system of drains to carry off much of the rain surface waters, the two sets of drains in duplicate being very costly, (Victoria will find that out in time,) whilst the able engineers in the old countries always recommend the combined or single systems for cities situated on the sea and so favorable for convenient and safe outfall as Victoria is. I entirely object to the present outfall. Ross Bay, all things considered, has advantages and the least disadvantages. At this point nearly the whole of the city, as now extended, could have been effectually drained by simple gravitation, but the system your city fathers have adopted, the sewage of James Bay district, or at least a part of it, and a considerable part of the district next the westend, must now forever be lifted by power, which means a great annual charge on the city. Mr. Mohun also tries to show that Sir Robert Rawlinson, our greatest sanitary engineer, approves of the system he is carrying out. Nothing can be further from the truth. I know his opinion on these questions as well as any person living, and I am certain he would have adopted the combined system and the Ross Bay outfall for Victoria. I challenged the Council at the time to send all the schemes to London and let Sir Robert deal with them. Of course that would not suit their objects, which I am sure are of a reprehensible kind when weighed in the balance of common honesty as understood in the Mother Country. Had the council had backbone enough to have carried out our scheme, Government street, Douglas street, Johnson street and the Chinese quarter would have been effectually sewered long ago. The main sewer would have been driven up from Ross Bay to and along Wharf to Store streets first of all, giving vent to all other streets being dealt with as they were met with. When I first saw Mohun's pamphlet I felt inclined to expose it to the citizens, but I have been extremely busy for the last 12 months and much from home. I have been in London frequently lately, the last time for three weeks at a spell. I have been engaged as a professional witness in a cause celebre between a corporation and a sewerage contractor, which lasted three weeks before the Queen's Bench. I was in the box an entire day for the corporation. I was not engineer for the work, but merely called on to assist the corporation in a great fight. We are still extremely busy, and I am not sure that if I had to be in Victoria the profits would have been greater, but it was not a question of profit, it was my great desire to give Victoria the best system with the greatest economy attainable.
